Welcome to this exciting workshop offered by the School-Based OT International Network and ENOTHE Project!

In this workshop you will hear about the different ways OTs are developing school-based approaches to intervention and about the curriculum guidelines that we have developed for OT students. There will also be time to join a discussion on a topic of your choice in a breakout group.

The structure of the workshop will be as follows:

- Chaired presentation session of authors with accepted conference abstracts
- Introduction of the curriculum guidelines materials developed by the ENOTHE project group
- Short break
- Panel discussion with the presenters
- Facilitated discussion in breakout groups with themes:
  - OT curriculum: looking at the resources developed and gathered by the ENOTHE Project
  - Practice: sharing experience and linking it to the presentations
  - Research and development: how to develop new strategies and services with schools
- Return to plenary group to briefly share outcomes of the groups and then close the workshop.

Hoping to hear from you soon!
